Title: EMSCO BILLING SERVICE, INC.;

QUI TAM ACTION;
HEALTH CARE FRAUD MATTER

Synopsis: The enclosed details require further investigation.

Enclosures: Enclosed is a complaint and/or other information concerning the captioned Qui Tam Civil Action. The enclosures were forwarded to the Health Care Fraud Unit, FBIHQ, by the Civil Division of the Department of Justice (DOJ).

Details: Qui Tam lawsuits are brought by individuals known as "Relators." The Relator files the action under seal alleging that the defendant somehow defrauded the U.S. Government. The Government has the opportunity to review the case while it is still under seal to determine if it wants to adopt the allegations contained in the complaint and participate in the lawsuit as the plaintiff. If the Government ultimately prevails, the Relator receives a percentage of the recovery. At times, this percentage can amount to millions of dollars.

Qui Tam lawsuits were common in the Defense Fraud arena in the past decade. Much of the Qui Tam practice has now switched to health care fraud and a growing number of Qui Tam actions are being brought in this emerging area.

Relators are typically employees or former employees of defendant businesses. Qui Tam are initially filed under seal so as to protect the Relators until such time as the Government decides whether to enter the action. Therefore, any investigation or other action by the FBI must preserve the Relator's anonymity until such time as the Relator's identity would normally be made known to the defendant during the course of the Qui Tam action.

To: Chicago From: Criminal Investigative Division
Re: 66F-HQ-1104423, 02/26/1996

Copies of the Qui Tam complaints are provided to the local U.S. Attorney where the action is filed and to the Civil Division, DOJ, in Washington, D.C. They jointly decide whether the Government should enter the case. The Civil Division has agreed to provide copies of all HCF related Qui Tam complaints to the HCF Unit for forwarding to the Field. Copies are also provided to other investigative agencies depending upon the Government program which has been defrauded (i.e., copy to DCIS if the military's CHAMPUS program has been defrauded, or to HHS/OIG if Medicare has been defrauded).

Many Qui Tams provide the opportunity for worthwhile criminal cases to be conducted in parallel with the civil action. Other Qui Tams should be handled as civil matters only, but the FBI can still decide to support the civil case through appropriate investigation.

The enclosed material is provided to you for your evaluation. Further information can be obtained from the Civil Division of the U.S. Attorney's Office where the Qui Tam was filed or from the DOJ Attorney identified on the DOJ Transmittal Slip attached to the enclosed complaint.

Should you decide to open an investigation concerning the enclosed matter, please coordinate your activity closely with the U.S. Attorney's Office and any other investigative agency which may have received a copy of the enclosed complaint.

HHS/OIG also receives copies of all HCF-related Qui Tam actions. It is important that the receiving office(s) contact appropriate HHS/OIG Regional Inspector Generals to coordinate OIG and FBI handling. It is possible one agency may defer to the other, that a joint investigation may be warranted, or that neither agency elects to investigate the matter.

Finally, it should be noted that Relators sometime file Qui Tam actions in judicial districts distant from the headquarters of the defendant business. In such instances, the HCF Unit has forwarded copies of the enclosed material to the field office in whose territory the action was filed, the field office in whose territory the business is located, and to any office which we believe may have an ongoing investigation of the defendant business based on an indices search conducted at FBIHQ.

To: Chicago From: Criminal Investigative Division
Re: 66F-HQ-1104423, 02/26/1996

Appropriate contacts between all receiving offices should take place to discuss the possibility of joint investigation and/or prosecution or deferral by one office to the other(s). Also, field offices are requested to advise FBIHQ via teletype within 30 days whether this referral is opened as a 209 investigation or what other action the field office has taken in this matter. In the event this matter is opened an opening LHM will also be required. For the information of the receiving office(s), captioned matter is currently classified as a 66F HQ matter. Should an investigation be initiated, this matter should be reclassified as a 209 matter.

The Qui Tam was filed in the territory of the Chicago Division. A search of FBIHQ indices did not reveal any matches to the captioned subject.

FRAUD AGAINST THE GOVERNMENT
HEALTH CARE FRAUD

b6

On January 11, 1996, an action was filed in the Northern District of Illinois by qui tam [REDACTED] in the name of the United States Government, to recover penalties and damages arising from an alleged massive fraudulent billing scheme. [REDACTED]

b6
b7C
b7D

[REDACTED] This case was filed In Camera and Under Seal and will not be made public until October 1996.

The EMSCO companies are all related Illinois corporations with their principal places of business at 440 E. Ogden Avenue, Hindsdale, Illinois, which is located in the Northern District of Illinois. The EMSCO companies contract with Illinois hospitals to staff their emergency rooms with physicians. The physicians in each EMSCO-staffed hospital independently contract with the particular EMSCO company that services that hospital. EMSCO codes and generates the bills for the physicians' emergency room services and submits these bills to the patient's medical payor, including Medicare, Medicaid and private insurance companies.

The EMSCO companies also contract with hospitals to provide billing services for hospital-employed emergency room physicians. These hospitals forward their emergency room records to EMSCO, and EMSCO then generates the emergency room physician bills and submits them to the patient's medical payor.

The NES companies are related corporations which comprise the third largest emergency room physician service company in the nation. In addition to providing physicians to staff hospital emergency departments, the NES companies also

b6
b7C

provide management services, liability insurance for clients, reimbursement consultation, quality assurance and risk management consulting, and marketing and public relations assistance. The NES companies acquired the EMSCO companies in September, 1994.

There are five Current Procedural Terminology Codes (CPT Codes) used for emergency department physician evaluation and management services. These CPT Codes are used by the majority of medical care providers throughout the U. S. in billing physician and outpatient services. The appropriate Code is determined according to detailed criteria documented in the patient's medical record. "Level 5" refers to the highest level of emergency room evaluation and management service; "Level 4" is the second highest level of service.

Details: [REDACTED] provided preliminary information regarding their research to date as it applies to EMSCO billing for Medicare reimbursement. These documents were placed in a 1A envelope.

b7C

[REDACTED] stated the initial information gathered regarding the Medicare Part A billings indicates the hospitals, with which EMSCO contracted, are billing Medicare Part A within the average billing range for hospitals providing emergency room services in the Chicago metropolitan area. However, [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] stated the initial information gathered regarding EMSCO's billing of Medicare Part B for reimbursement of physician services indicates EMSCO is billing statistically higher than other area physicians providing emergency room care. [REDACTED] stated the billing patterns of the hospitals and physicians should correspond, even though EMSCO's billing patterns do not.

[redacted] provided preliminary information regarding their research to date as it applies to EMSCO billing for reimbursement by Blue Cross Blue Shield of Illinois. These documents were placed in the 209A-CG-100882-A file.

b6
b7C

[redacted] stated the initial information gathered indicates EMSCO utilizes an abundance of high and low severity in their billing. [redacted] stated the average emergency medicine provider codes 90% of their cases in the middle 3 of the 5 categories of emergency medicine service. EMSCO, by comparison, codes only 72% of their cases in that range.

Medicare Part B and Blue Cross Blue Shield of Illinois investigators will continue to gather data and statistical information regarding the billing practices of EMSCO/NES.

Date of transcription 5/26/96

[redacted] Chief Auditor, Illinois Department of Public Aid (IDPA), 17 N. State Street, business telephone number [redacted] was contacted at his place of employment. Also present was [redacted] Investigator, U. S. Attorney's Office - Northern District of Illinois. [redacted] being previously known to the interviewing Agent, then provided the following information in the presence of [redacted]

b6
b7C

[redacted] stated he met ROBERT TETIK in approximately 1988. At that time TETIK did business as EMSCO, a company which performed the billing functions for area hospitals. [redacted] advised TETIK had contracts with one or two hospitals in 1988, but believes that number has grown substantially over the past few years.

b7C

[redacted] stated EMSCO submits bills to IDPA, in order to receive Medicaid reimbursement for the physician services provided in the emergency rooms of EMSCO affiliated hospitals. Since EMSCO bills only for physician services, the hospitals are permitted to bill for the technical component of the emergency room care, including ancillary services.

b7C

In 1987 and 1988, [redacted] stated IDPA began receiving bills for the technical aspect of the emergency room services from both the hospitals and EMSCO. IDPA adopted the position that EMSCO's billing of both physician services and technical services violated IDPA policy as specified in the IDPA Handbook. EMSCO contended IDPA policy was not violated because the policy in question did not appear in the IDPA Administrative Rules Book.

b6
b7C

[redacted] stated the dispute between IDPA and EMSCO was settled when EMSCO agreed to discontinue billing for both physician and ancillary emergency room services, and IDPA agreed to cease initiating audits of EMSCO relating to that issue. EMSCO additionally agreed to forgo any further challenges to the IDPA Handbook in exchange for the opportunity to publicly comment on any proposed Rules pursuant to the Administrative Procedure

Act. [REDACTED] stated IDPA has had no further problems with EMSCO and has not been prompted to conduct any further investigation of the company.

[REDACTED] stated the only relationship IDPA has with EMSCO is that of an alternate payee. [REDACTED] explained that physicians apply for a provider number from IDPA, which they use to bill IDPA for Medicaid reimbursement of their services. By a contract between the physician and IDPA, the physician agrees to perform services in accordance with Medicaid policy and IDPA agrees to reimburse the physician for those services.

b7C

[REDACTED] stated even though the contract is between the physician and IDPA, the physician may designate an alternate payee to receive his/her Medicaid reimbursement funds. The alternate payee is jointly and severally liable with the physician, and the physician must complete an IDPA application for every alternate payee designated.

b6
b7C

[REDACTED] stated there is typically a three month delay between the date a physician renders service and the date IDPA issues the physician a reimbursement check. Reimbursement checks can be paired with service dates by matching the voucher numbers appearing on the bills submitted to IDPA with the voucher numbers on the reimbursement checks issued by IDPA.

Synopsis: FBIHQ is requested to furnish the Chicago Division, Squad WC-5; with ten IBM Thinkpad 750 or 755C laptop computers; one Hewlett Packard 350 portable computer printer; and one IN-FOCUS, or LCD Panel and overhead projector.

Details: The equipment is requested for use on the following cases:

Two laptops for [REDACTED] et. al., HCF-PIP; 209B-CG-102125; which is a staged automobile accident case involving doctors, lawyers, claim organizers, chasers, and claimants. State Farm Insurance has filed a civil RICO against eleven doctors, three lawyers, and four claim organizers who are also targets of this case. To date over six hundred claims involving over one thousand claimants and over $3 million in claim payments have been identified as part of this case. The laptop computers are needed so that agents, who will be approaching numerous targets, can have access to depositions, 302's, and two databases. One database includes detailed information on each of the claims identified to date and the other database contains detailed information on several hundred patient files obtained during the search of [REDACTED] medical office on October 24, 1996. The claim database is currently on Microsoft Access, Version 2.0 software which should be loaded on these laptops.

Two laptops for ROBERT TETIK, dba EMSCO, et. al., HCF; 209A-CG-100882; which is an investigation into a massive fraudulent billing scheme whereby the defendants have deliberately and systematically submitted false claims to the Government for emergency room physician services provided to Medicare and Medicaid patients. Based on these false claims, the Government has paid in excess of $20 million to EMSCO. EMSCO's successor company is National Emergency Services (NES), the largest emergency room billing service in the nation. Re: 209B-CG-102125, 02/11/1997

The IN-FOCUS, or LCD Panel and overhead projector which is used in tandem with a laptop computer, will be used by Squad WC-5 for the numerous Health Care Fraud speeches, seminars, and training sessions conducted by the Chicago Division. This will allow the Chicago Division to have prepared outlines, charts, and graphs for use during these presentations.
